PUBLIC LIBRARIES

Summer programs and family events are funded by Friends of the Library, Montgomery County, Inc. and local Friends of the Library Chapters.

message from the director

This is a great time to visit your public library! School may be out, but summer presents all kinds of learning opportunities. Montgomery County Public Libraries (MCPL) is offering a variety of exciting programs that are fun as well as educational; and best of all, these programs are FREE. Some of the special programs happening this summer include performances by Grammy winning folk music artists Cathy Fink and Marcy Marxer, magicians Mike Rose and Joe Romano, Master Storyteller Diane Macklin and programs presented by The Maryland Science Center and Reptiles Alive!

MCPL kicks off the month of June with programs in celebration of Black Music Month and National Caribbean-American Heritage Month. Jazz comes alive when the talented students from The Jazz Academy of Music, Metropolitan Washington perform at the Paul Carr Jazz Brunch on Saturday, June 5 at the Rockville Memorial Library.

Throughout the month, experience the culture, art and music of the Caribbean with programs featuring art exhibits, author events, Panamanian dance and live steel pan music at the following branches: Aspen Hill, Germantown, Silver Spring, Twinbrook and Wheaton. These programs are possible through a grant provided by the Friends of the Library, Montgomery County, Inc.

Summer is the perfect time to catch up on your reading. Your public library has books that stir the imagination, expand the mind and create a sense of wonder for readers of all ages. Books on CD are also the perfect fun for rides in the car. I invite you to make reading a family activity. Sharing books provides fun and enjoyment for both children and adults and introduces children to a wide variety of experiences.

Be sure to visit the Kidsite, Teensite and Reader's Café pages on the library website for booklists and online reading guides. Or stop by any library and ask the librarian for more great titles! Come, Read and Explore @ your public library all summer long! For a complete listing of library programs and events, visit our website: www.montgomerycountymd.gov/library.
